Arizona Threat Liaison Officer

Program Updates: April 2026

Threat Liaison Officer

Back to Basics

Threat Liaison Officer (TLO) is a critical component of modern public safety operations, ensuring agencies remain connected, informed and operationally prepared for an all-threats, all-hazards environment.

TLO serves as the essential link between frontline personnel and a broader intelligence network spanning Federal, State, Local, Tribal and private sectors.

Threat Liaison Officer

Back to Basics

Roles:

- On scene: Intelligence, Threat Assessments & interviews
- Suspicious Activity Reporting (SAR): KST dissemination
- Chemical, Biological, Radiological, Nuclear, Explosive (CBRNE) Response
- Inter-agency Communications (1 & 1)
- “Bridging the Gap” between public safety & public health, ensuring rapid intelligence sharing on emerging biological, environmental, and community level threats.
- Threat Vulnerability Assessments (TVA): supporting critical infrastructure assessments

Threat Liaison Officer

Back to Basics

Response:

Suspicious packages, HazMat, EOD, search warrants, Mass Casualty, impacts to critical infrastructure, school threats, domestic & international terrorism related incidents.

Type TLO's work in tandem (1 LE & 1 FD)

TLO Types:

Type III: Local event/incident does not require resources

Type II: More complex, multiple agencies, or technical operation

Type I: Intelligence collection, criminal investigation, multiple scenes, multiple agencies & Unified Command

Threat Liaison Officer

Back to Basics

Advanced Training:

- Field Intelligence Teams (FIT)
- Active shooter response (ASI)
- Threat Vulnerability Assessments (TVA)
- Statewide Threat Assessment and Management (STAMP)

Summary

- The TLO program serves as a force multiplier and an indispensable component of the intelligence framework. Embedding a TLO within your agency ensures integration into an intelligence network dedicated to threat detection, rapid information sharing and coordinated response.

Fusion Liaison Officer

Fusion Liaison Officers (FLOs) serve as a critical link between their home agency and the Arizona Counter Terrorism Information Center (ACTIC), which is an intelligence-sharing hub designed to promote coordination among federal, state, local, tribal, territorial, and private-sector partners.

Target Audience

Agencies whose staffing model is not positioned to staff and train a Threat Liaison Officer. Specifically, sworn law enforcement, sworn firefighters, active/reserve military personnel, civilian crime analysts working for a law enforcement agency, sworn corrections personnel employed by state and federal prisons, and civilian personnel employed by privately operated prisons.

Fusion Liaison Officer

Roles

- Information sharing and Intelligence Flow
- Distribute threat related intelligence from ACTIC to partner agencies
- Nationwide Security Initiative for Suspicious Activity Reporting (SAR)
- Keep the FLO's home agency informed of emerging threats, incidents, or trends in criminal, terrorist, cyber, or other safety domains.
- Serve as a point of contact for the ACTIC during critical incidents, large-scale events, or emergencies.

Fusion Liaison Officer

Roles

Actively build partnerships between the FLO's home agency ...

- Law Enforcement/Fire Department
- Public safety partners
- Private sector stakeholders
- Tribal or local government officials
- Public health partners

TLO ANNOUNCEMENTS

Threat Liaison Officer (TLO) Training

December 15, 2025

TLO Course Descriptions

Basic TLO Course (40 hours)

The Basic TLO Certification Course will train individuals in suspicious activity reporting, intelligence collection requirements, TLO in public health, and provide a basic understanding of the operational tempo of threats nationwide, as well as current threat patterns in Arizona. During the course, students will receive an overview of the program and core capabilities of certified TLOs.

Target Audience: Sworn law enforcement, sworn firefighter, active/reserve military personnel, civilian crime analyst working for a law enforcement agency.

Prerequisites: Signed application * IS-0100 * IS-0200 * IS-0700 * IS-0800 * Current 28 CFR Part 23 Certificate * Current "B" level TOC Certificate (applicable to all local, county, and state law enforcement members).

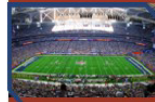

Statewide Threat Assessment & Mitigation Program—STAMP Course (24 hours)

S.T.A.M.P. is a statewide initiative supporting the identification, investigation, assessment, management, and, when necessary, prosecution of individuals or circumstances associated with potential acts of targeted violence. This training enhances collaborative capabilities between law enforcement, fire service, emergency medical care, mental health providers, physicians, social workers, nursing professionals, and other allied stakeholders responsible for pre-incident intervention.

Target Audience: Public safety professionals, healthcare providers, behavioral health clinicians, threat assessment practitioners, and partner agencies involved in the prevention of targeted violence across Arizona.

Prerequisites: Current 28 CFR Part 23 Certificate * Current "B" level TOC Certificate (applicable to all local, county and state law enforcement members).

These courses are presented by the Arizona Counter Terrorism Information Center (ACTIC) in cooperation with Arizona Department of Military Affairs (ADEMA). See additional course descriptions and projected course dates on the following page.

Additional information will be provided once courses are available on the ACADIS portal. Available courses can be found by searching "TLO" in the search term query.

Threat Vulnerability Assessment (TVA) Certification Course (16 hours)

The TVA class is a detailed two-day program. The class is open to all TLOs and appropriate public safety first responders. The instruction will provide a general overall knowledge of Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design (CPTED) concepts and target hardening methods and procedures. When complete, this course will enable officials to conduct assessments in their jurisdiction or area of responsibility, and conduct assessments assigned from the ACTIC.

Target Audience: First responders.

Prerequisites: None. Priority may be given to certified TLOs and those who will be conducting TVAs.

Field Intelligence Team (FIT) Certification Course (12 hours)

The FIT Certification Course is a counter surveillance detection course based on detecting terrorist activities at large events. FITs deploy as assets at various major events to perform covert counter surveillance operations. The FIT mission is to provide situational awareness to Event/Incident Command during an event. FITs will support Event Command to identify any suspicious activities that might have a terrorist nexus so that the appropriate first responders can be deployed for mitigation and investigation.

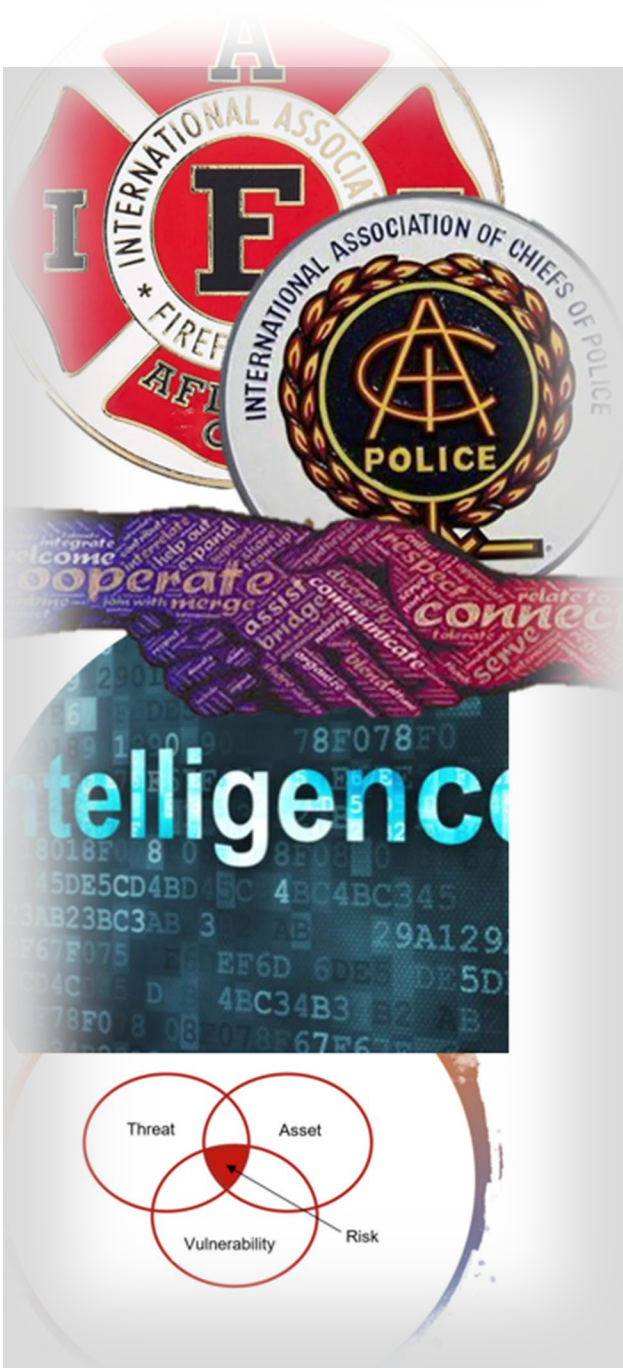

Target Audience: Certified Threat Liaison Officers (TLOs) and members of public safety (law enforcement applicants must be sworn).

Prerequisites: None. Preference will be given to Certified TLOs who meet the needs of the TLO Program.

Registration: Self-registration through the state's online registration system at dematraining.az.gov is required. New users will be required to create an account prior to enrollment. Instructions for applying for an ACADIS account can be found here. To obtain access to a disabled account, email training@azdema.gov.

All TLO training courses are provided at no cost. Agencies are responsible for all travel expenses, if applicable. For course updates, visit FNVISAGE.Acadis-C.
